MENTORING

Share your professional expertise and inspire a student, or recent graduate, to reach their career potential, by becoming a mentor.

As an individual, mentoring can enhance your professional development and personal job satisfaction. For an organisation, mentoring has been recognised to improve retention, attract talent, save on training and development costs and create a supportive work environment.

Additional benefits of mentoring include:

- Networking opportunities
- Talent identification from the graduate pool
- Supporting corporate social responsibility

The UniSA Business School supports four mentor programs:

- Business Career Mentor Program
- Executive Partners
- Property Mentor Program
- UniSA Alumni Connect

Commitment varies by program but can involve 1 on 1 meetings, email correspondence and attending networking events and training sessions.

STUDENT PLACEMENTS

Access emerging talent and add value to your business by hosting a UniSA student placement.

To develop graduates for global professional careers, the UniSA Business School offers our students real-world experience combined with their academic study. Placements in industry enable our students to gain skills relevant to the modern workplace, to maximise their learning outcomes, and to establish professional networks. In turn, your organisation can benefit from a fresh perspective and additional assistance for a specific project or business problem, and can make a positive difference to a young professional's career.

Projects in the areas of accounting, applied finance, human resources, international business, law, logistics and supply chain management, management, marketing, property, sports and recreation management, and tourism, events and hospitality management can be supported through a student placement.

If you have a project you would like a student to assist with, please contact Dr Sandra Barker (undergraduate) or Dr Elizabeth Hemphill (postgraduate): eb_enquiries@unisa.edu.au
